HOLDS THE PASSES

Kuroki Captures the Mountain Gaps

WAR VESSEL AT THE BOSPHORUS

The Japanese General Staff May Concentrate Forces Against Port Arthur

FIGHT AT MAO TIEN PASS.

Tokio, July 4th.—General Kuroki reports that two battalions of Russians attacked the Japanese outposts at Mao Tien Pass at dawn on July 4th under cover of a dense fog. The Russians were repulsed, but they returned and charged three times before they were finally driven off. The Japanese pursued them for three miles to the westward of the Mao Tien pass. The Russians left 20 dead and 50 wounded on the field. The Japanese lost 15 killed and 38 wounded.

KUROKI CAPTURES THE PASSES.

Tokio, July 4th.—General Kuroki has occupied Mao Tien pass without resistance. The Russians have abandoned Tsin Tien Guan hurrying away the supplies. A detachment of General Kurck's army has also occupied the North Fen Shun pass without meeting with resistance. The main army advanced westward and occupied a line extending from Mao Tien pass to the Shao Mao Tien and Sinkai passes.

MAY CONCENTRATE ON PORT ARTHUR.

Rome, July 6th.—According to a telegram received from Admiral Togo, the Japanese General staff is discussing whether in accordance with the opinion of Kuroki it is advisable to suspend operations against Kuropatkin until after the fall of Port Arthur which is imminent. Afterwards it is contended all the Japanese forces could be brought against the Russians.

TESTING TURKEY'S COURAGE.

Constantinople, July 5th.—The Russian transport St. Petersburg of the volunteer fleet arrived this morning at the entrance to the Bosphorus with 130 men and equipment on board. She also had 241 soldiers en route from Sebastopol for Vladivostok. The vessel anchored under the Turkish forts to await orders from the Port. One report is that the transport is carrying a party of red cross surgeons and nurses. If the first report is correct the vessel is merely attempting to test Turkish neutrality.

SEVERE FIGHTING.

St. Petersburg, July 5th.—The fact that Lieutenant General Sakharoff chief of the staff to General Kuropatkin witnessed the fighting near Mao Tien pass, is taken here to indicate that he is in command of the forces of Mao Tien which include the army corps under Lieutenant General Count Keller. The desperate character of the fighting is shown by the reported bayonet charges. The Russians keeping the Japanese from the trenches. Since the fighting around Senu fien shows that the Japanese are determined to hold the ground to the south as well as the Dain pass until a favorable opportunity presents itself for an advance on Tien Kow, the port of New Chwang.

Tried For Shooting His Father

The following is the evidence given at the preliminary hearing of Howard Stewart charged with shooting his father on Monday, June 28th, near Saskatoon:

Manda Stewart, being sworn, said:—I am mother of the accused. This shooting occurred last Monday. Frederick L. Stewart was Howard's father. I was his wife. It occurred at 28-30-10, W. 3rd M. in the afternoon near five o'clock. We called Frederick L. Stewart to dinner at the dinner hour. He came at two o'clock and asked my daughter if she had called him to dinner. She told him she had. He said, "I did not see." We always hang a cloth out. He ate his dinner and while he was eating she and Howard went to the tent, and I went a little later. The tent was in front of the shack. I lay down on the bed in the tent with Edna and Howard. Edna is 18 past and Howard is 10 past. In the meantime he went and played with Blanche and then went out. Blanche is 15. After he went out an Englishman came down from Mr. Wood's for eggs. The dog barked and I looked out and saw Mr. Stewart talking with the Englishman. He brought him in to the house and sat down in the door. He talked there while I gathered the eggs. I gave the Englishman a jar of butter. When he left I went to the tent to take off the butter I had churned in the forenoon. As I lifted the butter into the bowl he came in and sat down on the trunk just a short distance from me. He spoke about the nice lot of butter I had taken off and said, "I tell you, Manda, the next wife I get I don't intend she shall work very hard." He expected to have servants and have everything nice. He was not mad then. We had separated on the 4th of April. I was living on my daughter's homestead. Until two weeks ago he stayed on the Paulmer place. Two weeks ago we met him as we were coming to town and he declared his intention of pitching his tent on my daughter's homestead. We forbade him. He said in effect, "How in— could we help ourselves, he could do as he pleased." When we got back the tent was pitched and he had taken possession of the barn and he had gone to town. We came home on Wednesday and he came on Friday. He boarded with us and slept in the tent until Monday, the 28th. On the Friday afternoon before this he had asked me if I did not think it best for him to get married again. I told him I did. On several occasions he had asked me to live with him and I had said I never would. Afterwards he said that if I came down on the 4th he would introduce me to the lady. He went over and sat down on the foot of the bed and said, "didn't I think he was good looking enough to catch almost anyone." Edna said, "Ma, why don't you look at pa?" He had put Howard's cap on his head. I looked up at him. He raised up off the bed and caught me by the throat and shoulder and threw me over on to the bed. He then caught me around the throat with both hands and put his knee about half way up. He was hurting me. He was mad then. I did not think he was mad when he first threw me on to the bed, but when he put his knee up then I knew he was. He was not choking me bad. I said, "Fred, I want you to let me up." He would not and I told him I would call Blanche, saying, "You know when I call her she always helps me." By that time Howard had raised up and grabbing the butter ladle he struck him two or three times. His pa told him to stop. Howard had heard me call for Blanche and ran for her to come quick. While she was coming Edna raised up and pushed him back, saying she had had enough of his foolishness. When she pushed him back I got up. At that time Blanche had got to the door and said, "That polished man has found his temper again." I don't think he made any answer. I told him to quit his quarrelling and to get out of this. I could not say I was not angry. He said, "this was his house and — you I will stay here." We had paid him $5.00 on the tent and owed $3.00 yet. Edna said "if this is your tent we will get out." He went out and I started to go. He grabbed at me but did not catch me. I started for the house. Edna went to her house and I went in after her. I turned and told him not to come in. He came in and sat down on the corner of the table. Edna went out and began to take the tent down saying, "this is mine. I will see if you will stay here." He went out and said, "I will smash in the house." She told him to go ahead. He picked up an old gun barrel that was lying there and smashed in the windows. I went around and came in facing him and told him to stop. He was going towards Edna. He struck me with his arm and pushed me against some stakes. I did not fall clear down. He struck Edna and I saw her fall over the rope. I saw him kick her as she lay on the ground. Blanche was on the far side of the tent pulling up pegs and had the axe in her hand. She came up and struck him somewhere with the axe. He jerked it from her and struck her with his arm knocking her down. He swore he would kill her but she got up and ran a short distance. He did not attempt to kill her with the axe, he could have done so had he wanted to. Apart from words he did not do anything that would lead me to believe that he wanted to hurt Blanche. I was good and scared, but did not say real mad. He raised the axe over Edna's head and said, "I'll kill you, — you." He held the axe up long enough to have hit her. While he was holding the axe over Edna I was about ten feet away. When he shoved Blanche down I was half way between the tent and the door of the house looking at Blanche, she was, may be, two or three steps from Edna. Edna was the further from the door. The tent is oblong. I looked to see if Willie Woods was coming and screamed. Just at the instant I saw the axe over Edna I saw Howard on the steps in front of the house with the gun pointed. I was almost at the house at the time. I had taken a step or two towards Howard when I saw him with the gun. When Mr. Stewart had the gun, but only for an instant. Howard was on the step when I first saw him. I could not see both Howard and Mr. Stewart at the identical instant. After seeing Mr. Stewart with the axe I turned my head and saw Howard. I don't know why I did so. Howard was to my left. I grabbed hold of the gun and said, "Oh, my God, he is going to kill Edna!" I grabbed it in a way to stop Howard from shooting. I believed Stewart was going to kill Edna. I started toward him but when I saw Howard come on the step I grabbed the gun. The shot was fired just as I took hold of the gun. It struck Mr. Stewart in the neck and killed him. I grabbed the barrel with my left hand. It was leveled before I touched it, and aimed low. I don't know what effect my seizing the barrel had on the direction of its pointing.

Mr. Stewart and I had quarreled before. I have been knocked around, kicked, choked, my children had just come to fear their father would do serious violence. My husband had at different times threatened to take my life and the children's. I have separated from my husband before on account of abuse. I left him the last time because we could not endure the way he beat me as well as the oldest girl. He came to the homestead twice before and brought the cattle out. He came in an opposite direction. Willie Wood, the hired man, Blanche, Howard and myself were there. I saw Mr. Stewart drive up back of the house and take a club from the hired man and strike him. Blanche went out and told him to stop, that this was not his place and she did not want him coming here and raising so much trouble. He told her that if she did not shut her mouth he would kill everyone of us. He took possession of the barn. I started for Mr. Wood's, and he beat me back. He would not let Blanche out. We slept on the prairie one night because we were afraid to stay in the house as we expected he would come that night. Howard had frequently seen the quarrels and myself and others had heard threats to kill.

Edna Goodpasture being sworn said:—I was present on Monday the 28th when Frederick Stewart was shot. My father was in a most violent temper that day. I believe he intended to kill me. He frequently used violence on me and the others. I heard him several times threaten to kill all of us. Howard heard him also. One time last winter Howard and Blanche wanted to go to town and he did not want them to, and he struck and knocked mother down and threatened to kill all of us.

The accused, Howard Stewart, has been bound over for trial at the fall term of court in October. At present he is at home on bail.

Suicide and Inquest

Battleford Herald: On Thursday evening between half-past seven and nine o'clock Jas. Burley died in his room in the Alton Hotel. He had arrived from Lloydminster on Wednesday the 8th inst., and had been expecting a telegram about some business. In the meantime he talked insurance a little and drank a little, but the witnesses say they never saw him the worse of liquor. On the day in question he kept his room complaining of being ill and was wandering in his talk. As he appeared to be getting worse towards evening Dr. Spirling was called in, who administered sedatives and remained with him until he was quiet and rational. On returning from supper the doctor found him out of bed rising a glass. On examining the glass the doctor found some crystals in it which he saw were either strychnine or opium salts. The deceased said it was the latter and asked for something to eat; was given some egg on toast and drank a glass of milk. The doctor was still suspicious and sat with him until the expiration of the time in which the poison should have acted. As no symptoms developed the doctor went out for a while returning later to find his patient dead. Dr. Mendenhall, the coroner, and police were summoned and a jury empanelled. After viewing the body directions were given for immediate burial and the inquest was adjourned until the next evening. An empty bottle which had contained strychnine was found outside his window and crystals of strychnine were found on the soap where the water from the washing of the glass had fallen on it. The jury brought in a verdict of death from strychnine, administered by himself in a fit of despondency.

His papers showed that he had been in good circumstances at one time; that he had been in New York in January and February of 1902, Calgary in May of the same year and Strathcona later, whilst it is known that he came over on the Lake Manitoba in March with the Barr Colony, only coming as far as Saskatoon. Only fifty-six cents were found in his possession at the time of his death and two life insurance policies for $5,000 were found amongst his papers. He had evidently been carrying the bottle for some time as it is not like any to be obtained in town.

LORD DUNDONALD AND NATIONAL DEFENSE

One of the chief offences of the Canadian Government against Lord Dundonald, as explained in his newspaper manifesto, was the non-publication of his report on a scheme of national fortification or defence. The Minister of Militia in the exercise of his responsibility, decided to treat that part of Lord Dundonald's report as private, but made the offer last year, and repeated it this year, to submit it confidentially to a committee from both sides of parliament, which offer has not yet been accepted. Following upon recent events the suggestions contained in that report have become the subject of controversy. It is alleged on the one hand that Lord Dundonald made extravagant recommendations regarding expenditures on national defence. On the other hand it is alleged that he did not make such recommendations but that his report was not published because it adversely criticized the militia policy or administration of the Government. The latter seems to be a moderately safe assertion so long as the Government adheres to its position of holding the document as confidential. But unfortunately for this contention some person at the secrets of the Government and without its consent, or in those of Lord Dundonald's, communicated intimations of its contents to some English newspapers last year. The rumors drifted back to Canada and were discussed here.

Lord Dundonald himself, speaking at a public gathering on April 1st, 1902, alluded to them; and in doing so either with or without intention, disclosed at least a part of the project of expenditure. He is reported to have said:

"Though I have recommended certain steps which I think are necessary for the militia, I wish here emphatically to deny a falsehood current in certain papers, namely, that I was much annoyed that $12,000,000 was not provided in this year's estimates for the militia for capital expenditure. If $12,000,000 was provided at this moment I could not with the moderate proposals I made recommend its expenditure with advantage in a year. Such expenditure might well be spread over two or three years on that organization."

Here then is evidence—his own—that his recommendations looked to a capital expenditure of twelve millions in three years on militia account; besides the increase which has been made on current account and besides whatever further expenditure he may have prepared on capital account.

It may easily turn out that these large schemes for national defence may yet be shown to have been wise economy. But it is about 90 years since Canada stood in the slightest need of anything of the kind, and at no time in the 90 years did there seem to be as little likelihood of need arising as now. Under such circumstances any Canadian government would find it difficult to justify such an expenditure before the people of Canada.

Taking Lord Dundonald's own word for it as stated in his published manifesto, it was the refusal of his demand for this large expenditure which was the ground of his accusation of indifference to the national defence made against the Government; and was the real cause of the petulant outburst in Montreal which compelled his dismissal.

Accepting this as the issue—and he says it was the issue—between himself and the Government, the taxpayers of Canada will have no difficulty in deciding as between Lord Dundonald and the Government upon which was made such a violent, unfair and unwarranted attack. He made the issue and forced the fighting. His friends have the right to complain of the result.

TARIFF CHANGES

The tariff amendments which were brought down on June 7th were further amended in some matters of detail on June 28th. The principal amendments are: An addition to the anti-dumping clause in case of unduly restricted production in Canada; Permitting West India molasses to come in free only when imported direct; and providing that goods ordered before June 8th which reach Canada before August 31st, will be subject to the rate of duty prevailing before June 7th.

AMENDED SCHEDULE OF JUNE 28th

1. Resolved, That it is expedient to amend "The Customs Tariff, 1887," to the following effect:—

That the following provision be substituted for subsection (f) of section 1 of the said Act:

(f) The expression "guage," when applied to metal sheets or plates or to wire, means the thickness as determined by the "Imperial Standard guage."

Anti-Dumping Provision

2. Resolved, That whenever it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Minister of Customs or of any officer of customs authorized to collect customs duties, that the export price or the actual selling price to the importer in Canada of any imported article, of a class or kind made or produced in Canada, is less than the fair market value thereof, (as determined according to the basis of value for duty provided in the Customs Act in respect of imported goods subject to an ad valorem duty) such article shall, in addition to the duty otherwise established, be subject to a special duty of customs equal to the difference between such fair market value and said selling price: Provided, however, that the special customs duty on any article shall not exceed one-half of the customs duty otherwise established in respect of the article, except in regard to the articles mentioned in items 224, 226, 228, and 231 of schedule A, the special duty of customs on which shall not exceed fifteen per cent ad valorem, nor more than the difference between the selling price and the fair market value of the article as aforesaid.

The expression "export price" or "selling price" herein shall be held to mean and include the exporter's price for the goods, exclusive of all charges thereon after their shipment from the place whence exported directly to Canada.

The foregoing provisions respecting a special duty of customs shall apply to imported round rolled wire rods not over three-eighths of an inch in diameter, notwithstanding that such rods are on the customs free list: Provided, however, that the special duty of customs on such wire rods shall not exceed fifteen per cent ad valorem.

If at any time it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Governor in Council, on a report from the Minister of Customs, that the payment of the special duty herein provided for is being evaded by the shipment of goods on consignment without sale prior to such shipment, or otherwise, the Governor in Council may in any case or class of cases authorize such action as is deemed necessary to collect on such goods or any of them the same special duty as if the goods had been sold to an importer in Canada, prior to their shipment to Canada.

If the full amount of any special duty of customs be not paid on goods imported, the customs entry thereof shall be amended and the deficiency paid upon the demand of the Collector of Customs.

The Minister of Customs may make such regulations as are deemed necessary for carrying out the provisions of the foregoing sections and for the enforcement thereof.

Such regulations may also provide for the temporary exemption from special duty of any article or class of articles, when it is established to the satisfaction of the Minister of Customs that such articles are not made in Canada in substantial quantities and offered for sale to all purchasers on equal terms.

The special duty aforementioned shall not apply to goods of a class subject to excise duty in Canada.

Changes in General Duties

3. Resolved, That in Schedule A, the words "common and colorless window glass, and" in item 201, and the words "pails and tubs of wood" in item 330 shall be omitted.

The change in regard to window glass from 20 per cent. general duty and 15-1-3 per cent. preference, to 15 per cent. general and 7-1-2 per cent. preference. On pails and tubs the change is from 40 per cent. to 25 per cent.

The Canadian Northwest Homestead Regulations

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, excepting 8 and 16, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age to the extent of one quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

ENTRY.—Entry may be made per the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or, if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situated, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10.00 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following upon cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years:

(1) At least six months' residence years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, reside upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent, may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If a settler has obtained a patent for his homestead, or a certificate for the issue of such patent, countersigned in the manner prescribed by this Act, and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

(4) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same township or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of Clauses 2, 3, or 4, must produce proof of such residence to the local agent, sub-agent, or Homestead Inspector, before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled, and the land may be again thrown open for entry.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the local agent, sub-agent, or Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

Information.—Newly arrived immigrants will receive at the Immigration Office, in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office, in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing land to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Lands Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

TO AID IMMIGRATION

H. C. Alexander, representing the Western Canada Immigration Association came in last night and will be in town a few days in the interests of the Association. Friday morning he meets the council and board of trade to lay before them the objects and needs of the association.

A pamphlet published by the association gives the following information regarding its organization and plan of work:

"The Western Canada Immigration Association is an organization of business men who believe the gods help them who help themselves. It is the influx of population and the consequent development of the country that are making Western Canada. This Association wants to see the country kept on 'making.' There is danger that temporarily, at least, immigration into this country from the United States may fall off. It is the purpose of this Association to check this tendency. The means? Publicity. Western Canada is an eternal advertisement of itself. But the best advertisement is useless unless it is seen. We propose to publish this advertisement broadcast. Once Western Canada is thoroughly known, there will be no trouble about getting the people.

"The movement of population into Western Canada is not exactly spontaneous. It has largely been worked up by the Government and the land companies. Both are still at work, but there is need of disinterested work supplementary to the Government work by an association that has no selfish interests.

"The reason is that within a year numerous powerful organizations in the United States have begun to endeavor to send the movers elsewhere than to Western Canada. The railways of the American West are putting forth unbounded efforts to attract the moving

SYDNEY IN DANGER

FROM A FOREST FIRE

The Nova Scotian City Depends for Safety on a Favorable Wind. Great Damage Done

Halifax, N. S., July 6th.—Fire started in the woods back of Sydney Mines yesterday and a high wind to-day fanned the flames into a conflagration that threatened the destruction of that section of the town as well as the Nova Scotia Steel Company's house. Sydney and North Sydney were wired to for assistance but Sydney had all it could do to compete with a destructive fire that threatened it and could give no assistance.

North Sydney sent its entire force. The company's new house and Sydney Mines Hotel were destroyed and eight more houses were burned.

The town proper is not in danger as the wind is blowing away from it.

The Cup Winner

Martineau, Mass., July 6.—Of the nine little thirty-five foot yachts that started out so bravely Saturday from Gravesend Bay, N.Y., five were anchored at sunset last night at Marblehead harbor after a daring ocean race of 30 miles. The little Rhoda crossed the line at 9.48 last night, winning the hundred guinea cup offered by Lipton.

population to regions tributary to their lives.

"Irrigation of the public lands in the arid and semi-arid regions by the Federal Government is assuming immense proportions. Already $27,000,000 are available for this work, and $21,000,000 have been laid out on definite projects. This work will redeem, eventually, more than 100,000,000 acres of land and make homes for millions. The Government gives the land away, charging the settler only for the cost of putting the water on to his land, and giving him ten years in which to pay that. As these irrigated lands are opened up the population pressure in the United States will be relieved, and there will be little natural overflow.

"To get population then Western Canada must work for it. Now is a good time to begin the work. 'Land without population is a wilderness.' The most fertile and beautiful country in the world is not a rich or great country till it has people. An expanding, growing country is always a prosperous country. That is why Western Canada is such a prosperous country to-day. It is therefore to the interest of everybody who has a stake in the country to take a part in any well-conceived and legitimate undertaking having for its purpose the stimulation or keeping up of the present very satisfactory immigration."

LOCAL MARKETS

The markets for beef, cattle and hogs are very dull, most of the local firms having enough animals on hand to supply the immediate demand. The prices have become depressed accordingly.

Butter is worth from 12 1/2 to 15 cents, the supply being fairly good.

Eggs have come in more freely the last week and bring from 15 to 17c.

Hay, native, $8 to $10 ton; Timothy $10 to $13 ton.

Straw $2 to $3.

Departmental Stores For Winnipeg

Winnipeg Tribune:

Wide awake merchant princes of the east have for two or three years been casting longing glances towards Winnipeg with the object in view of seizing the first favorable opportunity of locating here. The first will be Timothy Eaton of Toronto.

For the past week the great store man has had his agents engaged in selecting what would likely prove the most central and best site for a mammoth departmental store, and now negotiations are under way and practically consummated for the purchase of the entire block on Portage avenue, opposite the Clarendon hotel, bounded by Donald, Graham and Hargrave streets. For the property desired, which has a frontage of 266 feet on Portage and a depth of 640 feet to Graham avenue. The Eaton company will pay over half a million dollars. The agents of the Eaton company have scarcely been taking options on all the property in the block, and have been offering fabulous prices to those not anxious to sell.

The entire Portage avenue frontage, 264 feet by 150 deep, has already been bought.

Thomas Kelly is reported to have sold 38 feet on the corner of Portage and Donald.

Dr. Good sold 44 feet adjoining Mr. Ord another 44 feet, and Grand Duches the corner of Hargrave. The price is said to have been in the neighborhood of $1,000 a foot. Geo. H. Strevel has been offered $100,000 for his Donald street property, and Dr. Devine has given an option of $20,000 on the remaining lot which he owns. Negotiations are under way, and in some cases have been consummated, for the purchase of all the property on Hargrave street which completes the block.

The utmost secrecy has been maintained in connection with the transactions, and not one of the owners knew for whom his property was being bought. The transactions will involve an expenditure of from half to three-quarters of a million dollars. The company will as soon as the property is secured, proceed immediately with the erection of a large departmental store similar to that in Toronto, and will take over the entire western business of the company, which has attained immense proportions.

The Robert Simpson Co., Limited, has for some time been looking over the situation in Winnipeg and had practically decided to open large stores here. The Eaton company, it is said, will now endeavor to get the start and will in all probability proceed with the work at once.

Partner in Eleven Years

From the Winnipeg Commercial: By the death recently of Mr. Arthur B. Lee, President of Rice, Lewis & Son, Limited, Canada loses one of its best known hardware men. It was in 1888, when he was 18 years old, that Mr. Lee entered the employ of this firm. Eleven years later he was admitted into partnership. The company was organized into a joint stock concern in 1887, and Mr. Lee, to whose efforts so much of its subsequent success is credited, was elected President.

Outside the Rice Lewis Company, the late Mr. Lee had important business interests. In 1878 he was President of the Toronto Board of Trade. He was for several years President of the St. Lawrence Foundry Co., and the Northey Manufacturing Co., and at the time of his death was a director of the Bank of Hamilton, the Toronto General Trusts Corporation and the Victoria Rolling Stock Company, and Chairman of the Board of Harbor Commissioners, to which position he was appointed in 1881.

Mr. Lee's third son, Gordon, is located in the Territories. One daughter, Mrs. H. C. Wilson, lives at Edmonton. The eldest son, Arthur Burdette Lee, is Vice-President of Rice Lewis & Son, Limited.

Winnipeg Markets

From the Commercial:
Wheat—Prices at close of market today are as follows: 1 northern $61.4c, 2 northern $51.2c; 3 northern $50c; No. 4 wheat 72.3c, feed wheat 58c; No. 2 feed 49.1c, spot or delivery within ten days. For July delivery: 1 northern $51.2c, 2 northern $51.2c, 3 northern $51.2c, 4 in store Fort William and Port Arthur.

Oats—Winnipeg quotations hold about steady, although some sales have taken place at considerably lower prices. In such cases, however, shipments had arrived on "spec." the value not having been arranged before, and the owners were forced to take a loss or pay demurrage, as the present market is so restricted. Transactions arranged, however, before the goods were shipped have taken place at our quotations. Local dealers claim that the market is firmer. We quote: No. 2 white in car's on track worth 25c to 33c here, and feed grades worth 25c to 35c. Farmers' loads, in the country, bring 28c to 32c.
Barley—The market is stagnant.

Miners' Claims Settled

Nelson, B. C., July 2.—In the five test damage cases against the Crow's Nest Pass Coal company, which grew out of the explosion in the Coal Creek mines on May 22, 1902, judgment has been rendered by Mr. Justice Martin in the supreme court in favor of the defendants.

The judge held that the disaster was the result of gas and not a coal dust explosion. In addition the court absolved the company from negligence and dismisses the action with costs against the plaintiffs.

In speaking about the gas or coal dust explosion, the court in part says: "The next fact to be determined is whether it was a coal dust or a gas explosion. In arriving at a conclusion on this vital point wherein silence plays so great a part, the court is very largely in the hands of experts, and in determining what weight shall be attached to their testimony will be guided by their apparent competency and disinterestedness."

Applying these opinions of these witnesses to requisite facts which have been proved to my satisfaction, I am forced to the conclusion that on the evidence it must be held that this is essentially and substantially a gas explosion, and of such a nature and extent that quite apart from any augmentation by dust it was alone sufficient to cause, and consequently must be held to have caused, all of the results which the plaintiffs necessarily assumed the onus of attributing to a dust explosion."

This judgment disposes of the ninety-one pending damage suits, for which damages were asked to the extent of $200,000, exclusive of costs. The case lasted for over three weeks and Nelson now holds the record for the greatest number of cases tried at any one sitting, and the longest continuous session of any sittings in the province.
